

DAILY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL

C. C. FOWNING, Editor and Proprietor

Few recent books have attracted more attention than Sir Charles Dilke's book on "Problems of Greater Britain," which is a review of the condition of the whole British Empire, political and economical. Professor Goldwin Smith of Canada has taken occasion to show in the May Forum that Sir Charles Dilke misapprehends the situation of British North America, and he contends that the British Empire is now held together by very slender threads which commercial conditions have a constant tendency to snap. He points out how the development of Canada lies along the same lines as the development of the United States, and shows that commercial and, ultimately, political union is inevitable.

Fear is felt that many inland States will oppose the movement to encourage ocean steam lines. If the people of those States know their own interest they will support the measure. What they most want is an outlet for their products to foreign markets after the home market is supplied. At present they are subject to the demands of English shipowners, because there is no American opposition to keep down freights. Within the last year British bottoms have been taking in the difference between the depressed price of wheat in New York and its nearly maintained price in Liverpool.

New York has got so far with the great municipal project yet proposed on this Continent, as to pass through the Lower House of the Legislature the bill creating a commission to inquire into the expediency of Andrew H. Green's scheme to consolidate all of New York's neighboring towns—Brooklyn and others—with New York itself.

The Senators and Representatives from Nevada deserve severe censure for never procuring in the River and Harbor bill an annual appropriation of $25,000 for the improvement of the Truckee river. Their attention has been called to the necessity of such an appropriation time and again by the JOURNAL, during the past twenty years. Alas, poor Glendale!

The prospects are that by Wednesday the great tariff debate will be under way in the House. The Republicans talk of limiting it to a week, while the Democratic Congressmen generally demand an additional one to discuss the bill. The least time that can possibly be devoted to oratory will please the country at large.

An Insane Mother's Crimes.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—O'Connell special from Traver says Mrs. T. A. Breslin, who lives five miles from here, entered the room of her two little girls and proceeded to strangle the older one to death. The younger child ran from the room pursued by the mother, who was still clinging to the other child. The mother soon dropped the older child, who was then dead, and returned home. The younger girl arrived at a neighbor's and gave the alarm. Meanwhile the husband returned home and going to the back of the house found his wife in a pool of blood, the front part of her head literally chopped to pieces. She was conscious and said she inflicted the wounds on herself. Two neighbors, who had then arrived, soon found the body of the dead child. Several physicians were summoned and pronounced the woman's case hopeless, the ax with which the deed was done having penetrated the brain. She was evidently insane.

CHEERING SILVER WORDS.

M. M. ESTEE REVIEWS THE GOOD WORK OF THE PAN AMERICAN CONFERENCE.

An Insane Mother's Crimes—Important News From All Sections.

Estee's Review of the Pan-American Conference.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—The annual banquet of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce was held this evening. The principal feature was an address by Hon. M. M. Estee, a delegate to the recent International American Congress, who outlined the work of the conference. In the course of his address Mr. Estee said the conference showed substantial unanimity on all questions tending to build up trade between American States; that reciprocity could not be reached without a change in the revenue laws of all American States and that free trade was impossible because every American nation largely maintained its government by imposing duties on imports.

The speaker declared it was a fallacy to suppose that the United States tariff laws had any considerable effect on our South American trade or that an adequate remedy for the evils complained of would be found in reciprocity. The conference therefore deemed it best to adopt as far as possible uniform commercial and trade relations without attempting to change import duties. Mr. Estee thought that part of the neglect of the South American trade by the United States was due principally to the fact that we attempted to be a commercial people without maintaining our merchant marine. He outlined the recommendations which the representatives of the eighteen American Republics made to their respective governments and said no part of the American Union would receive greater advantages from the conference than the Pacific Coast. In closing, Mr. Estee said that when American lines of steamers shall regularly ply between American ports, when all American Republics shall have direct railroad communication, and when arbitration shall be the universal rule on the western continent, the civilized world will look upon the International Conference as most splendid achievement of the age.

Cheering Silver Words from Across the Continent.

Special to the JOURNAL.

LONDON, May 6.—Mr. Gibbs, ex-Governor of the Bank of England, and President of the Bimetallic League, cabled Senator Jones, in the name of the Bimetallic League, deeply regretting the death of Senator Beck, whose services in the cause of monetary reform were most warmly appreciated, and adding that the bimetallic party in the United Kingdom now included over one hundred members of the House of Commons, who attach the greatest value to the debate about to commence in your illustrious chamber. We fully recognize not only that the support afforded silver by your services during the past twelve years has helped to protect the industrial world from an acute monetary crisis, but also that the debates in Congress have served more than all else to educate our people to a recognition of the important issues involved. We believe also that the increased courage of silver contemplated by Congress will restore wholly or considerably your corner's rate and will thus make an international settlement of this complex question comparatively easy. We anticipate further, with much confidence, that the advance in the price of silver which must follow your action, will both stimulate export trades of your country and while tending to the prosperity of your agricultural classes will also assist the manufacturing industries of the United Kingdom and the whole body of our wage earners.

Senate Silver Matters.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—An effort was made by the Senate Republican Silver Committee to-day to agree upon a silver bill to be reported to the caucus. Ten Senators were present, together with Senator Stewart, who was invited to take part in the proceedings. After a discussion, lasting nearly three hours, it was decided to report to the caucus the bill reported by Senator Jones from the Finance Committee some weeks ago with amendments.

One amendment is the addition of the sixth section of the bill adopted by the House caucus, which provides for covering into the treasury about seventy millions of lawful money now held for redemption in national notes. Jones' bill directs the Secretary of the Treasury to purchase monthly silver bullion to the value of $4,500,000, the notes in payment thereof to be redeemable in lawful money. Senator Mitchell stated that while personally he is in favor of free coinage of silver he believed the measure to be free from any vicious principle and one that if adopted would ultimately lead to free coinage. In this Senator Teller agreed.

LUNATICS CREMATED.

Horrible Sights Witnessed at the Burning of the Montreal Asylum.

LONGUE POINTE, Quebec, May 6.—A line of towers is all that remains to-night of the Longue Pointe Lunatic Asylum. Nothing could exceed the horror attending the calamity of the fire which destroyed the building to-day and resulted in the death of so many helpless victims. To the inmates it was a moment of supreme gloom. They waved their blazing limbs in turbulent satisfaction at the ruin that was about them, and not until the walls tumbled over their heads were their maniacal screams silenced. The asylum was a prison more than a hospital and contained thirteen hundred inmates. Now not more than eleven hundred are accounted for, but many escaped into the fields. The records were destroyed but from the best evidence obtainable it is a conservative estimate to say one hundred victims met their death. That ever since Quebec was a province these helpless creatures have been farmed out to nuns at $100 a head per year, and the Sisters' aim was to keep them as frugally as possible. The building was constructed of brick and was 600 feet long. The main building occupied the centre and on each side extended wings six stories in height.

The fire started on the women's side in the upper story and was caused by a careless patient. The flames were soon blazing through the roof. The firemen arrived from Montreal as soon as possible but the water supply was exhausted in five minutes and the firemen directed their attention to saving victims. An Associated Press reporter arrived with the firemen. The flames were bursting out everywhere at that time, and a stream of ill-clad men were pouring out of the eastern wing. Not a male patient was lost.

The patients on the lower floors were removed without difficulty, but from the upper wards, where the violent patients were sequestered, there came the wildest screams as they resisted the nuns who were beseeching them to make their escape. At the windows a mania would be seen peering through the bars and jabbering at the bright flames that went up to the sky. As the heat became more intense she would grab the bars and remain there until the flames enveloped her. The inhabitants had come from all parts round about attracted by the blaze, and in an hour the little village was one surging mass of shouting people. The firemen burst in the doors with axes. Inside Chief Benoit says it was such a sight as no fireman ever before witnessed. In one ward he entered there were twenty-five patients, and at his approach they huddled together like a pack of beasts. He tugged at them until the fire darted into their garments and enveloped them in the flames, and then he escaped with his life.

The engineer of the building did good work in saving nine patients and every man made a record which he may feel proud of. On the first alarm the engineer turned on the hose but it was utterly useless as the fire leaped along the ventilating shaft to the towers and burned in a dozen places at once. One of the Tertiary nuns, Sister Marie, lay sick in the infirmary on the fifth floor, and to her rescue came three others—Demers, Gilbert and Lumiere. They seized their companion and bore her in a blanket to the staircase, but they were met by a sheet of flame and all perished. None of them were over twenty years of age. The Sisters worked with the persistence of heroines, by turns imploring, beseeching and commanding the patients, and finally saving a very large number.

Premier Mercier has placed the Montreal exhibition buildings at the disposal of the nuns and to-morrow the buildings will be stocked with provisions.

Completion of a Huge Bridge.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—The Chronicle's special from Needles, California, says the connection of the Arizona and California wings of the great Cantilever bridge were made to-day and to-morrow the work will be finished and a celebration will be held. Prominent railroad officials are expected from Albuquerque. An excursion train will be run from the west and a number of people are expected. The bridge is said to have the longest unsupported span of any Cantilever bridge in the world. It is 360 feet long. The total length of the bridge is 960 feet. Nearly forty million pounds of steel and iron were used in its construction. Three men were killed and twenty-five injured during the work. By the 10th inst. trains will be running regularly on the bridge.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—Edwin Stokes, of Philadelphia, who came to this city to take the place of striking iron moulders, was nearly killed Monday night by a crowd of men, whom he says are strikers. He worked in the Union Iron Works and had agreed to join the strikers, when he was set upon by a crowd of men and fearfully beaten and stabbed in the leg. He was taken to the strikers' headquarters and his condition was not ascertained until to-day. Frank Urel, one of the non-union men captured at the Fulton Iron Works Sunday, was practically held by force at the strikers' headquarters yesterday.

Is the reason people will not, can not or do not use any difference in cheap nostrums put up by Cheap John huckster or irresponsible parties at enormous profits, rather than take a medicine of world wide reputation and one that is giving universal satisfaction at equal price? NEW TO-DAY.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits. Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered."

Peculiar in its "good name" at home—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly. YON SCHMIDT'S SCHEME.

The Protest of the Nevada State Board of Trade.

At the meeting at the Court House Monday night to protest against Von Schmidt's scheme to divert the waters of Lake Tahoe to San Francisco, Manager Fulton, of the Board of Trade, submitted the annexed, a well written protest, which was ordered sent to the Mayor and Board of Supervisors of San Francisco:

Reno, Nev., May 5, 1890.

To the Mayor and Board of Supervisors of the City and County of San Francisco—GENTLEMEN: If the time should ever come when your Honorable Board shall seriously consider any such proposition as that of taking the waters of Lake Tahoe into your city, this Board would ask the privilege of being heard upon the subject.

Any one who pretends that he has the right to make such use of the waters of Lake Tahoe, or of any part of them, attempts to deceive. There is only one way to obtain a right to water; it must be taken possession of and used. If the filing of a paper claim in the office of a County Recorder gives ownership, then the law books must be re-written.

No man can show where there has been anything else done towards acquiring the right to Lake Tahoe. Not a drop of water has been diverted from the natural channel, and no work done towards it; on the other hand, it has all been absorbed by expensive operations on the line of the Truckee river which began in 1860 and 1861, and those engaged in them have ever since been in constant use and possession of it. Farming upon a large scale has been absorbing more and more of the stream, until now there is never a surplus during the irrigating season, and many times there has been a deficiency.

We send with this a map showing the Truckee river with the irrigation canals fed by it, covering fifty thousand acres of land. Flouring mills, smelting and reduction works, electric light plant and water works at Reno, immense saw mills, a furniture factory, box factory, water and electric light works, railroad water tanks, etc., at Truckee, half a dozen ice ponds producing over a forty thousand tons of ice annually, worth a hundred thousand dollars, mostly at profit saw mills and marble working mills at Essex; planing mills at Verdi, and other similar institutions all depend upon the stream for power. They use it and use it all and often need more. The railroad draws upon the supply for its line; the United States Indian Reservation for the Pute tribe uses the stream, and the Government will hardly consent to its being diminished.

The town of Reno, with 6,000 people, Wadsworth, Verdi, Truckee and smaller villages have been built up by farming and other industries depending directly upon the water supply, and any one of these interests would bitterly oppose such a thing, and the result would be long and expensive litigation. Like any other people we would defend our homes, and the loss or even partial loss of the river means ruin to all Washoe county, Nevada, and the eastern half of Nevada county, California. The proposition that water can be saved to supply an additional demand is as weak as the rest of the proposition.

For twenty years the water has been stored in Lake Tahoe by a dam six feet high, and drawn off as needed for the uses spoken of above. No water has been diverted, and there has still been a scarcity. Last year for months not one drop of water ran over the outlet of Lake Tahoe. The lake receded, so that the bottom of the river was high and dry. The water line was over a hundred feet back from the sills of the gate.

The capacity of Lake Tahoe as a water storage reservoir has been greatly over-estimated by ignorant pretenders. The lake has 122,582.54 acres, or 19 1/2 miles of water surface, including Emerald Bay and Cascade Lake. Outside of the water, the catchment basin has 290 square miles. There are not sufficient water falls in this basin to raise the lake thirty inches on an average.

Up to May 1st, with all the storms of last winter and the gates all closed, it rose only thirty-one inches, and it is the opinion of D. L. Bliss, of the Tahoe Lumber Company, and other well-informed persons that it will not fill to the point of overflow over the dam at the outlet, which is six feet above low-water mark, although this season's fall of snow was the heaviest in history. The great downfall always raises the lake more than the tributary fall. For instance, the great storm of last May raised the surface of the lake seven inches, while all that ran in off the hills from the same storm only raised it six inches.

Lake Tahoe is a navigable body of water. Its shoreline is established, and the ownership is in the United States. By special statute it has been reserved as a storage reservoir, to be used as a part of the system for reclaiming the arid region. It cannot be used for any other purpose.

The citizens of this county own a quarter-section of land through which the river runs for half a mile above the point where it is proposed to tap it. It is held by Francis G. Newlands, as Trustee, and we will not hesitate to erect a dam on it, if necessary, and by both might and right prevent the diversion of the Truckee from its natural channel.

We need not tell you that Tahoe water will not be Tahoe water after being carried through two hundred miles of pipe, or being led by an open ditch through sheep ranges, dairy farms, Chinese gardens and mining claims.

To depend on drawing direct from the lake would make the supply very uncertain for to calculate on saving six inches or a foot of water to draw upon would be very unsafe. A stiff west wind would lower the surface at the mouth so that very little would run out, leaving you for hours at a time without water. If there was a reservoir at Auburn or elsewhere in the hot foothills, and the water kept standing there for days together, it would be much worse in quality than if it stood on the cool peninsula south of your city.

Permit us to say that this communication is not at all in the nature of a threat, but we deem it proper in view of the vast interests our people have at stake, to notify you, with all due respect to your Honorable Board, that we cannot, in justice to ourselves, consent for one moment to any interference with our water supply. To do so would be to sacrifice everything that we hold dear and sacred—our homes, our children's rights and the future of our State. Very respectfully,

NEVADA STATE BOARD OF TRADE.

R. L. FULTON, Manager.

The meeting supplemented the same with the following:

Resolved, By the citizens of Washoe county in mass meeting assembled, that we endorse and approve the statement of the Board of Trade to the Honorable Board of Supervisors, of San Francisco, touching the appropriation and use of the waters of Lake Tahoe through its natural outlet and drainage, the Truckee river, as a comprehensive, detailed and particular statement of the facts set forth therein.

Resolved, That we, the citizens of Washoe county, State of Nevada, have, through the water-way of the Truckee river, the natural drainage of Lake Tahoe; and that for twenty years we have appropriated and applied its waters to beneficial uses; and that the laws and usages of the civilized world guarantee the continued use of those waters to us and we will stand on our rights.

Resolved, That a committee from the Board of Supervisors, of San Francisco, be, and hereby are, most cordially invited to come to Reno, Nevada, and thoroughly investigate the subject before taking any action.

GLENDALE FLOODED.

The Raging Truckee Overflows Nearly Four Thousand Acres of Land.

The immense volume of water in the Truckee, the like of which has not been known for years, has caused the water to overflow the banks at Glendale, four miles below Reno, and covered many of the best ranches with water to a considerable depth, doing great damage. The water reached the kitchen in Henry Whistler's house, and he was compelled to move his family to a neighbor's. One or two others are greatly alarmed lest they may be forced to leave their homes. The water has submerged the farms of John Kleppe, E. M. Thompson, A. J. Clark, Ross Jones, Dan O'Connor's old place, Mrs. Bladell, and has partially covered C. Derby, Miss Crocker, and Geo. Douglas. It is pretty close to those of R. H. Kinney and O. C. Ross. In all between 3,000 and 4,000 acres of land have been flooded, and if the river keeps up its lick the loss to growing crops will amount to thousands of dollars.

LIGHT COMEDY KINGS.

Hallen & Hart to Appear in "Later On" To-Night.

Included in to-day's arrivals will be the comedy kings, Messrs. Hallen & Hart, who will present their humorous skit at the Opera House to-night with the same equipment that has won for it a popularity that shows no sign of waning. Many new and attractive features have been added to "Later On" since the last visit here of Hallen & Hart, and the singing and musical features have been vastly improved. Fred Hallen is noted for rare musical talent as for his comedy genius, and his banjo solos are an attractive part of the programme.

Be Just.

The Carson Tribune says: Nearly every paper and everybody that has anything to say upon the subject of the drowning of the three men in Washoe Lake last week blame Snippy for not going to their rescue. Snippy saw them on the boat after it had capsized. He did not have so much as a log to go to their rescue with. If they had clung to the boat, they would ultimately have washed ashore. While he may be at fault for not giving the alarm, he should not be blamed for not going to their rescue, for it is well known that one in danger of drowning loses all reason, and three would have swamped the largest boat on the lake. If Snippy had attempted their rescue unaided there probably would have been four victims instead of three.

Something New.

Fred Pavola, who has been a resident of Reno for years and whose work is too well known to need praise from the Journal, now carries a fine stock of boots and shoes of all kinds. He has a fine lot of sheepherder's shoes and farmer's fine pegged and hand-sewed boots of his own make, which cannot be beaten, if equaled, anywhere. Call and see Fred and see what he keeps.

K. of F. Grand Representatives.

At a meeting of Triumph Lodge No. 11, of Virginia City, held Monday evening, the following Past Chancellors were elected as representatives to the Grand Lodge which meets in Carson next month: John Treloar, Frank Upton, Chris Ziegler, Henry Monk, C. W. McCabe, Wm. Phipps, Thos. Jewell, C. Bowman, J. A. Conbois, M. Hatch and J. M. McFarland.

Who is "C. B.?"

The following was picked up on Virginia street last evening: Mr. DAWLING.—How can I ever tell you how much I love you. Words are too poor to express my infatuation. I love you with all my heart and all my soul. And I shall never forget you as long as I live until I see some I love better. You are my sweetheart and forever until the next girl comes along. Your lover, C. B.

Prof. Devol Out.

The Board of Regents of the University have decided to dispense with Prof. Devol at the end of the term. They have more Professors than money, and think they can best serve the interests of the Agricultural Station by saving what money they have for labor.

At a meeting of the Douglas county ranchers, held in Genoa Sunday, to resolve on the best course in the suit brought by the Comstock Mill and Mining Company to adjudicate water rights under the act of the last Legislature, it was decided to put in a demurrer so as to gain time in which to learn the decision of the Court in the suit brought by the Humboldt valley farmers to test the constitutionality of the act.

The Walker river is running bank full and there is danger of the county bridge going out. It is also feared that the C. & C. railroad bridge at Mason Station may go out unless the water lowers soon. Men are watching the bridge to keep drift wood from lodging against it.

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue—Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is more safe from fire than any other section. The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco. It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno.

New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.
